

BRENDAN ROONEY

MANAGING DIRECTOR

Brendan joined Tracepoint in 2021 as a Managing Director based in Washington, DC. He brings a diverse background in cyber risk, working with companies around the world to identify, contain and eradicate threats from their digital environments to ensure operational efficiency and business continuity. Brendan has worked with law firms, insurance carriers and directly with victims of complex cybersecurity compromises primarily stemming from ransomware and business email compromise.

A frequent speaker on the topics of digital forensics and incident response, Brendan has led discussions on the prevention and reaction to cyber security incidents throughout the insurance, manufacturing, healthcare, financial services, education, state and local government industry verticals.
